

Writing software for macOS | Windows | iOS

About Scrivener

Tailor-made for long writing projects, Scrivener provides everything need to craft your first draft. Used by best-selling novelists, screenwriters, lawyers, students, journalists and more, Scrivener brings together tools familiar to writers everywhere in new and exciting ways.

“As a writer’s application, Scrivener is damn near perfect...”

—Neil Cross, bestselling novelist and screenwriter (Luther, Mama)

“I genuinely think this is the biggest advance for writers since the word processor.”

—Michael Marshall Smith, NYT bestselling novelist

Grow Your Manuscript Your Way

At Scrivener’s heart is a simple but powerful ring-binder metaphor that allows you to write, research and arrange long documents by breaking them into smaller sections. Each section is integrated into a project outline, meaning that you can step back and work with an overview, and restructuring is as easy as drag and drop.

Your research is always within reach, because Scrivener allows you to import almost any kind of file and view it right alongside whatever you’re writing. Scrivener is fundamentally about getting words onto the page, though, so its familiar editor and formatting features ensure that writers feel right at home. And when you’re ready to share your work, you can export to Word or create beautiful-looking ebooks and PDF files.

For a full overview of Scrivener’s features, please visit our product page:

<http://www.literatureandlatte.com/scrivener/overview>

Getting Started

You can download the macOS and Windows versions of Scrivener here:

<http://www.literatureandlatte.com/download?product=Scrivener>

Please email press@literatureandlatte.com if you require a licence for review or an App Store code for the iOS version.

The best way to get up and running in Scrivener is to go through the interactive tutorial, in which you use Scrivener as you learn. You can access the tutorial from the Help menu in the macOS and Windows versions, and from the bottom of the Projects list on iOS.

We also have a range of videos available here:

<http://www.literatureandlatte.com/learn-and-support/video-tutorials>

Pricing and Availability

- Licences for Scrivener for macOS and Windows are sold on our web store separately for $49 (macOS) and $45 (Windows), or together for $80.
- Students and academics can buy Scrivener with a 15% discount.
- Scrivener for macOS is also available on the Mac App Store at $48.99.
- Scrivener for iOS is available on the App Store for $19.99.

Quotes and Testimonials

Scrivener has been embraced by hundreds of thousands of writers, from novices to bestselling novelists, from freshers to professors, and from part-time scribblers to professional screenwriters. Take a look at what they have said about the app here:

<http://www.literatureandlatte.com/scrivener/testimonials>

About Us

Literature & Latte is an independent software company founded by writers for writers. Our story began in 2004, when, after years of dreaming about the ideal software for writing his novel and thesis, Keith Blount decided to teach himself to code and create it himself. Two years later, Literature & Latte was born, releasing the first version of Scrivener in January 2007. Our headquarters are in Cornwall, UK, but our small team now spans the globe. Our aim is to continue to bring together familiar writing processes in ways that aren't possible in the analogue world.

Press Kit

For screenshots, application icons and branding graphics, please be sure to download the full press kit from <http://www.literatureandlatte.com/press-kit>.

Contact

If you have any questions or need anything, please contact Julia at press@literatureandlatte.com.

Should you write a review and have time to send us a link, we'd be very grateful. And we're always looking to improve Scrivener, so we'd love to know what you think.

Thank You

Many thanks for your interest in Scrivener!

<http://www.literatureandlatte.com>

Twitter: @scrivenerapp

Facebook: <http://www.facebook.com/scrivenerapp>